Panther Post

Dear Parents:

Now that we have completed our first couple weeks of school, I feel like everyone is getting into the swing of the new school year. I have been extremely impressed by the behavior of our students and the way they represent St. Lawrence School. As I have been in and out of the classrooms, I have really enjoyed seeing the rigor and relevance of the lessons that our teachers have been providing our students and the engagement of the students as they participate in those lessons. I have been trying to make posts on our school Twitter account several times a day so that everyone can see the positive activities that are taking place on a daily basis. I encourage everyone to join us on Twitter.

God Bless!

Mr. Detzel

♣ Read Regularly – Try to read to your child every day. You might aim for 10-15 minutes of bedtime reading for a peaceful end to the day. Bring along a book and read to your child during a sibling's sports practice or curl up together with a book when you get home from work. Take turns choosing books to read. Your youngster may want to hear their favorites again and again, so use your turn to pick new titles to expand their reading library.
